Prof. Borecki Auditorium, 3rd Floor,

Plac Gwarków 1, 40-166 Katowice

- 13:00 Welcome by the host: Jan Bondaruk, GIG
- 13:05 Introduction to the day: Adam Irvine, ECCI and Aleksander Śniegocki, WiseEuropa
- 13:15 Supporting regional development through innovation (Re-Industrialise Flagship of Climate-KIC), María Yetano Roche, Wuppertal Institute
- 13:30 Part 1: Smart Transitions: Tailoring smart specialisation tools to support low carbon growth

Presentation by Adam Irvine, ECCI

The Online S3 Platform (www.onlines3.eu) was developed to provide stakeholders with a series of tools to utilise in the development of regional and national smart specialisation strategies. The objective of the Smart Transitions project was to review the tools to identify a subset that are most relevant to adapt to specifically support regions seeking to decarbonise their economy. The presentation of the selected tools, proposed modifications and example data will be followed by discussion and feedback from stakeholders to inform the future development.

Session includes a 20 min presentation and subsequent discussion with invited regional stakeholders

- 15:00 Tea/coffee break

15:15 Part 2: Smart Diversification of Silesian industrial base

Presentation by Aleksander Śniegocki, WiseEuropa

The session will focus on presenting a concept of methodology for linking of existing regional competencies in the area of traditional emission-intensive industries with new low-emission market opportunities. The presentation of the concept and an example of its application will be followed by the discussion focused on the potential for its take-up by the institutions supporting regional development in Silesia and other regions.

Session includes a 20 min presentation and subsequent discussion with invited regional stakeholders

16:45 Summary and next steps (Climate-KIC)

17:00 Adjourn and informal networking
